

SSHRC KMb Checklist

This research project will:

- Facilitate multi-directional flow, exchange, and/or co-creation of knowledge between diverse audiences;
- Facilitate flow of knowledge across multiple disciplines, sectors and/or internationally;
- Increase accessibility to knowledge, and interaction between knowledge producers and users through:
 - Open access (research is available free of charge online through open access publications, websites, repositories);
 - Multiple languages (research avail in both official languages and other languages when appropriate);
 - Publications (online and print journal articles, books, book chapters, reports);
 - Events (workshops, professional training, conferences);
 - Improved evidence-based pedagogy /curricula & teaching practices;
 - Plain language syntheses and research summaries;
 - Use of new technologies to link research producers and users;
 - Partnerships and networks between research producers and users (researcher-practitioner, university-school, university-school board, etc.);
 - Knowledge intermediaries (e.g. professional organizations, unions, associations, key individuals with influence that have close ties to target audience and can help mobilize research through their networks).